successful adulthood. Program components include art and art therapy, recreational programming, leadership development, cultural programming, case management, and HIV/AIDS.

Breakfast Club- the Homeless Youth Breakfast Club serves as a service access point for homeless and unstably housed LGBT youth from across the city. Each weekday morning youth come to The Center for respite, a nutritious meal, and to access critical case management and wrap-around support services.

Educational/Vocational Training- Center on Halsted uses a tiered approach, working one-on-one with each youth to determine their best fit. This allows the program to meet the needs of diverse youth- from those who are nearly employment ready to those with no preparation and often major barriers. Center on Halsted also serves as the City of Chicago's Region 1-Youth Career Development Center (YCDC), providing a 30-hour workforce development curriculum not only to youth at Center on Halsted but at-risk and high risk youth throughout the region.

Queer Youth Organizing Initiative (Q-YOI) - Led by Center on Halsted, the Q-YOI is collaborative effort of all LGBT youth service organizations. Through Q-YOI youth gain community organizing and coalition building skills necessary to creating change on issues most affecting their lives including racism, transphobia and adultism within the Lakeview neighborhood as well as reflective issues in the neighborhoods from which our youth are seeking refuge.

Culinary Program- The "What's Cooking" Culinary Program at Center on Halsted provides at-risk and underserved youth with food industry workforce development skills. Working alongside professional chefs, program participants acquire marketable skills that bolster their employability and ultimately improve their quality of life.

Complemented by The Center's urban garden, youth gain a breadth of experience in food systems from "farm to plate".

The mission of the Sexual Orientation and Gender Institute (SOGI) is to expand national access to high-quality culturally competent mental health care for LGBT individuals and their families across the lifespan. Using live and web-based formats, the Institute offers outstanding graduate training and provides high-quality professional development programming. The Institute also works to advance clinical practice through the promotion of research on LGBT behavioral health issues.

A national advisory council, comprised of notable academics and clinicians with expertise in LGBT mental health, provides input on the Institute's curriculum and consultation to its staff. These professionals from the fields of anthropology, psychology and social work are key contributors to the theory and practice of LGBT care. Expenses $ 386556. including grants of $ 0. The Anti-Violence Project at Center on Halsted was created in 1988 in response to the growing need for victim assistance for lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and HIV-positive (LGBTH) people. AVP is the only LGBT-specific program committed to addressing violence against and within the LGBTH community in Illinois. AVP has become the cornerstone of recovery for many LGBTH victims of hate and bias crimes, domestic violence and sexual assault in the Chicagoland area and across the state.

AVP delivers a continuum of victim services - from the moment of an emergency crisis call through ensuing legal issues and efforts to heal from physical and emotional pain. AVP does this by providing a 24-hour crisis hotline, case management, individual therapy, court accompaniment, legal and medical advocacy, and legal referrals. In addition to victim services, AVP provides outreach, education and trainings to community members, service providers and first responders to: increase awareness of violence against and within the LGBTH community; increase the LGBTH-specific competency of service providers and responders; and, decrease systemic barriers victims may face when accessing services and care.

Since inception, Center on Halsted has offered legal resources for the LGBT community, including information, referrals, workshops and advice clinics with attorney volunteers. Services include weekly pro-bono legal clinic staffed by volunteer attorneys, court accompaniment and Volunteers are a critical component to the success of Center on Halsted. Through a variety of capacities across program areas, volunteers increase the ability of the Center to serve our diverse constituency. At the outset, all volunteers attend one of our mandatory bi-monthly orientation sessions. Through these two-hour sessions, and ongoing communication, volunteers learn about opportunities within the Center which match their skills, interests, talents and experiences including special events, youth programming, elders programming, front desk support and administrative support.
